The present building of the Daremeher was constructed in the year 1898 with donations received from the community members and is well equipped to carry out various religious ceremonies. The building has undergone major repairs in the Golden Jubilee year of 1948 and also in 1983 with the full devotion and dedication of then Trustees. Major repairs are now required in order to maintain the building in good shape and condition which is very necessary for preserving our ancient heritage entrusted to us by our fore-fathers as a sacred trust.
